2. Introduction

Michael Strommer started to study Business Informatics ("Wirtschaftsinformatik") in October 2000. Aside from his study he worked as tutor at IFS ("Einführung in die Programmierung") and at BIG (Web Engineering). His efforts primarily focused on Internet Computing and Economics which finally lead him to write his diploma thesis in the field of development economics. In October 2005 he received his MSc in Business Informatics. Since April 2006, he is working in the ModelCVS team as project assistant.
